WANT OPTIMISM STATE

Speakers Assert That Permanent Optimism Is Necessary
—Want County Agent

One hundred business and professional men of the city voiced their approval of the Bismarck Immigration Association, formed by real estate men of the city, at an Open Forum dinner held at the Grand Pacific hotel last evening. It was one of the largest Commercial club dinners held in several months, and the proposal to make an organized effort to bring settlers to the Slope country was received with enthusiasm.

A permanent state of optimism was decreed by the business men attending the dinner. Utmost confidence was expressed in the future of the Slope country. Examples of men who had come into North Dakota to settle on farm and had made good were pointed out.

President Young, of the Commercial club, introducing the speakers, declared that a better feeling between town and country was an absolute necessity and urged a permanent spirit of optimism.

Thinks It Best Place.

Olbert Olson declared he was firm in the conviction that there are more possibilities in North Dakota than in any other state in the union. He declared that North Dakota people as a whole are in better financial shape than most states. He said he had seen statements of eastern states, including amounts of farm mortgages, etc., and that none of these statements were as good as that of North Dakota.

D. T. Owens declared that "Bismarck will not grow unless you develop the country. If the country goes back this town will go back."

He asked business men generally to get behind the organization and to keep the boosting spirit when prospective settlers are brought to town. He cited statistics comparing the yield per acre of North Dakota with other states. In 1919 North Dakota's corn yield per acre was 33 bushels, to 16 for Kansas, 26 for Nebraska and 33 for South Dakota.

Time Is Right.

Major Frank Henry said that the real estate men were trying to "bring in new blood, new spirit, new enthusiasm, new settlers."

"There is no doubt but that the people in Iowa, southern Minnesota, southern South Dakota have come to the conclusion that they had better quit paying rent and come to North Dakota and buy homes of their own. If the people of Bismarck boost Burleigh county land we can sell it."

W. E. Runey, employed by the newly formed association to go to South Dakota to seek settlers for Burleigh county, told of his experiences as an agent for the immigration department, and he said that within the last year hundreds of farmers in the inflated land value section had made the decision that they had had enough and were looking toward North Dakota.

Urging a better spirit of town and country, he said the country had not forgotten when townspeople went into the fields during the war and helped save the crops, nor many other instances of co-operation.

Mr. Young called on numerous men at the dinner for short talks:

"Less than it is Worth."

Father Hiltner spoke of the lack of inflation of land values in the state, and declared that North Dakota is one state where he actually believed land was sold for less than it is worth.

Thomas Hall declared that people know that we have good land, know that the farmer who farms well and systematically will make a success, and urged the diners not to let their wave of enthusiasm ebb with the end of the meeting, but to keep boosting all the time.

W. E. Holben said that the Minot Immigration organization had raised $5,000 for advertising purposes, urged employment of a county agent, citing examples of the growth of the potato raising industry in Ward county through the efforts of the county agent, and declared that within two years North Dakota would have the best good roads law of the nation on the statute books.

"The trouble with North Dakota," he said, "is that there has been a line of demarcation drawn between the town and country. It is wrong. There is no town business man and the country business man—and the farmer is just as much a business man as the man in town."

Judge W. L. Nusselt told the diners that he believed he held a record among those present. He said that he still had the homestead he took (Continued on page 2)

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS
SEEKS ELECTION REFORMFuture Influence of Women in Politics Hinges on Action Taken at National Convention at Cleveland

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Cleveland, April 9.—The future influence of women in politics, through reforms in election laws and methods, will be largely determined by the decisions of the National League of Women Voters on proposals to be submitted by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt to the league's second annual convention here April 11.

Mrs. Catt, as chairman of the league's committee on election laws and methods, is counted on to supply the surprise of the convention.

A veil of deep mystery has been drawn over the proposals to be made by her, with regard to election reforms. While outlines of the reports of all other committees have been submitted to headquarters, Mrs. Catt has declined to give any indication of the nature of her report.

It is suggested, however, that the recommendations may deal first with plans for greater participation and influence by women in local political affairs. This is an off year in national and state elections, but it is the year when the majority of municipalities and counties elect their officials.

Increase Power.

By concentrating on obtaining a larger share in local election matters this year, it is suggested, the women will be able to present demands more effectively next year when they come forward with their program for reforms in state and national elections.

While Mrs. Catt's proposals for a program of election reform laws, because they involve the whole future of women's influence at the polls, is the center of interest in the coming convention will deal with many other important issues touching women's affairs.

Plans will be laid for continuing the fight for laws to help the housewife's fight against the cost of living included in these are:

Federal laws for the regulation of the meat packing industry, for greater appropriations for studies and instruction in home economics, for cold storage regulation, protection of cooperative associations, for extended work in social hygiene and for the regulation of conditions affecting women in industry.

State action, along uniform lines will be urged to restrict profiteering and the hoarding and waste of food, to establish public owned markets, abattoirs and milk depots, to encourage legitimate co-operative associations, to establish more uniform laws for marriage and divorce, to equalize the property rights of wives with those of husbands and provide joint guardianship rights over children, extension of mothers pension laws and fuller co-operation between state committees on American citizenship.

THREE STORES CLOSED

Status of Consumers Organization Being Considered in Court Hearing

Minot, April 9.—Asserting that he represents former stockholders in 25 of the 37 United Consumers Stores company scattered throughout North Dakota, R. A. Frazier, of Crosby, was prepared to go into the district court of Ward county today to oppose the appointment of W. G. Johnson, as receiver of the company. Frazier, a member of the Nonpartisan League, is clerk of court of Divide county.

This unexpected opposition to plans worked out by officials of the company, who had brought application for appointment of a receiver before Judge Moellring, resulted in postponement of the hearing until this afternoon.

Frazier is prepared, he says, to demand the appointment of C. W. Reichert, of Carrington, a Nonpartisan League state legislator, as receiver. Frazier and his backers charge mismanagement on part of company officials.

The content is that the Fargo office of the company has been maintained at a cost of $1,000.00 a month, which they claim is excessive.

Another element which entered the case was announcement by two creditors of the company from Garrison, N. D., that they would oppose appointment of a receiver on ground that the company is solvent.

Fargo, April 9.—Stockholders in 12 of the 37 co-operative stores in North Dakota of the Consumers United Stores company have made arrangements to break away from the parent organization and continue business as independent units.

Alfred Knutson, organizer of the company, announced today. The Consumers United Stores went into voluntary receivership last month.

The 13 stores have made arrangements with W. G. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the company, and its temporary receiver by which they each pay their share of the general indebtedness of the company and assume local debts, Mr. Knutson said.

This arrangement for breaking away from the corporation is subject to the approval in a hearing on the receivership by Judge Moellring, in Minot, N. D. today.

Three stores have been closed. They are the ones at Langdon, Rugby and Strasburg.

The stores which will operate independently are at Hillsboro, Larimore, Aneta, Cooperstown, Kulm, Pelton, Carrington, New Rockford, Fessenden, Turtle Lake, Powers Lake, and Sherwood.

The action is accepted as a decision to abandon the general plan of organization of the Consumers Stores.

COUNTY SHOWN
IN GOOD SHAPE
BY REJECTIONSGovernment Crop Loans Not Made in Many Cases Because of Lack of Failure

The number of applications from Burleigh county farmers for the federal seed loans has lessened in the last few days, according to Frank Johnson, county auditor.

A large number of applications of Burleigh county farmers have been rejected, because they cannot qualify under the government regulations. The regulations stated that only farmers who had crop failures last year can get loans, and very few farmers in Burleigh county had crop failures. The section of the regulations under which most applications from Burleigh county are rejected is contained in a paragraph of a form letter, as follows:

"Your application shows a crop yield in 1920 which cannot be considered a failure. In general we cannot approve applications which show a yield of more than five bushels of wheat per acre in 1920 or an approximate equivalent of other crops. Because of the fact that loans can only be made to those who had crop failures in 1920 on account of drought, you cannot qualify."

Rickard to Pick Site for Dempsey-Carpentier Match in New Jersey

WILL SEAT 50,000 PEOPLE

New York, April 9.—Jack Dempsey and George Carpentier will battle for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship within the state limits of New Jersey on Saturday, July 2.

The exact location of a specially constructed arena will not be announced until later but selection of the site will be limited to Atlantic City, Newark or Jersey City.

This was officially announced there this afternoon by Tex Rickard, who will have sole control of the arrangements and presentation of the match.

Rickard will inspect sites in all three cities during the next few days and decide on the one which offers the greatest advantages for handling what is expected to be the largest assembly of boxing enthusiasts that ever witnessed a pugilistic bout.

Wherever located the arena will seat at least 50,000 spectators and will be close to New York.

Dempsey, as heavyweight champion of the world and Carpentier, in the role of challenger and title holder will compete for 60 per cent of the gross receipts.

GREEKS SUFFER DEPRESSION IN
ROUT BY TURKSGovernment Statements Are Meager! News Being Kept
From People

Athens, April 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reverses suffered by the Greek forces in Anatolia and the "assaults" inflicted upon them by the Turkish nationalists have caused great depression here. Official statements are very meager and are interpreted to mean that the government is holding the truth from the people.

Mobilization is proceeding slowly it being reported that only 25 out of every 100 men have answered the call to the colors. It is said in many parts of Greece there has been flat refusal on the part of reservists to respond to military call.

High commanding officers are blamed for many tactical blunders.

MANDAN RECTOR
DIES AT AGE
OF 64 YEARSFuneral Services for Rev. Brown
Will Be Held Monday

Rev. Charles Hamilton Brown, rector of the Episcopal church at Mandan, died last night from pneumonia, following an illness of ten days.

Rev. Brown was well known in the Episcopal church in the state, and many leading rectors in the church are expected to attend the funeral services, which will be held Monday.

Born in England, Nov. 18, 1857, Rev. Brown came to the United States and settled on a homestead near Park River, Walsh county, in 1882. He was deputy county auditor of Walsh county for nearly fifteen years. Rev. Brown came to Mandan five years ago.

During his residence in Mandan, Rev. Brown took great interest in the Masonic lodge, being a member of all Masonic lodges there, and also of El Zagal temple of Fargo.

The funeral services on Monday will be in charge of Bishop Tyler, of Fargo.

The funeral will be held from the church.

Rev. Brown was very active in civic affairs, and was known throughout the Slope country.

Two daughters and a son survive.

Miles City, Mont., April 9.—The Custer county boxing commission last night ordered the suspension of E. L. Finlayson, a Bismarck N. D. boxer, in connection with the Jasper county peonage cases. The jury recommended a life imprisonment sentence.

Finlayson was arrested as a result of investigation by federal officials of alleged peonage on Georgia plantations. Williams admitted on the witness stand that he was guilty of peonage under the federal interpretation, as he bonded out negroes, but he said that other Georgia farmers were guilty.

He denied the murder of a negro farm boss, however, the jury threw 11 negroes were killed by being thrown into the river weighted down with stones.

London, April 9.—(By Associated Press.)—Premier Lloyd George, according to both the Pall Mall Gazette and Evening News has made a new peace proposal to the triple alliance. It is understood he asked that a proposal be submitted to the nations that where "safety men" were unavailable the government should be allowed to supply the labor necessary to safeguard the coal pits against permanent ruin.

London, April 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Recruiting of volunteer workers and "safety workers" was energetically begun by the government today and other plans were perfected to meet the threat of a widespread strike and involving directly about 2,000,000 workers.

Meanwhile, however, reports from various parts of England, Scotland and Wales indicate that the triple alliance, executive board may have more to do than the mere issuance of its strike decree in order to bring about a general cessation of work by the railway men and the transport workers, who, with the miners, make up the membership of this big labor organization.

From the Glasgow, Liverpool, Cardiff, Edinburgh Union of Railway Men comes word that the rank and file are challenging the right of the way men's national executive body to call a strike without balloting by the men.

EFFORT TO CHANGE ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION BRINGS SPLIT

Washington, April 9.—Representative Wood, of Indiana, caused a split in the house of representatives when he announced the introduction of a bill to take enforcement of the prohibition law from the internal revenue bureau to the department of justice.

Drys are expected to vigorously oppose the transfer of the enforcement work to the Department of Justice. Attorney-General Daugherty has been declared to have liberal views by some prohibitionists, and on the other hand, has been declared a champion of prohibition by friends of his home state, Ohio.

Those who argue for a change to the Department of Justice hold that it is not the function of the internal revenue bureau, which collects federal taxes, to be engaged in enforcement work, and that the enforcement properly is a part of the work of the Department of Justice.

FIGURES IN POLISH HISTORY

Countess Potocka, of Obscure Birth, Became Wife of Great Nobleman of That Country.

The Countess Potocka lived obscurely in the days between the first and second partitions of Poland. She was born in 1700, and was the daughter of a Greek shoemaker at Constantinople. Her extraordinary beauty and her poverty brought her to misfortune. A French consul named Boscamp took her away from Constantinople to Poland. There she is said to have married a Russian general, and later to have divorced him.

Then she married Count Stanislaw Felix Potocka, one of the wealthiest noblemen of Europe, a Pole of great influence but slight ability, who is regarded as a traitor who did much to bring ruin to Poland. The countess lived for many years in Berlin, where her beauty created a furor in the ranks of society. She died there in 1822.

Count Potocka was the Rockefeller of Poland. He owned several castles and enormous estates, possessing in the Ukraine alone no less than 3,000,000 acres. When he became of age he married secretly a very attractive cousin. When the story of their elopement was divulged there were terrible scenes. Although he was old enough to be a husband Felix was flogged and his young wife, berated and shunned, finally threw herself into a pond to escape her persecutors.

CHOSE POOR PLACE TO REST

Traveler in Spain Not Fully Aware as to Just What Uses Beds Were Sometimes Put.

An American tells of a visit he once made to the town of Yuste, in the northwestern corner of Spain. He had sought rest under discouraging circumstances, after a ride on mule-back over miles of dusty road. While the hostess of the inn was preparing his dinner he proposed to himself to rest upon the bed in the public room.

Nothing could, he says, have been more tempting than that cool white bed, after his laborious trip, and without saying a word to the Senora Parono, he threw himself at full length upon it.

Scarcely had he done so when a shriek arose, and the little woman flew at him like a wild creature. She seized him and dragged him off the bed with the strength of two men.

COP GETS NEW BEAT TO WALK

FARGO, N. D., April 8.—While walking his "beat" as a bluecoat on the police force, Fred Saefke saw the red light flash out a "call" from headquarters.

Duty bound, Saefke opened up the call box, took down the receiver, expecting to be ordered on an assignment. But it was another kind of a call. He was informed that a baby boy was born at his home and was calling for him, and that from now on he would have an additional "beat" to walk.

HAULS CASKET THROUGH STORM TO PROVE CASE

Mounted Policeman Produces Body After Hard Struggle

EDMONTON, Alta., April 9.—Sergeant Hubert Thorne of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police learned from lawyers that without a dead man somewhere in the case it is impossible to prove murder. The corpse is the cornerstone of his professional ethics.

Thorne is stationed at Fort Simpson on the Mackenzie river, a fur post of the Hudson's Bay Company. When word reached him that a murder had been committed at Fort Providence, he took a few trusty men and hurried to the scene by dog-sled. An Indian hunter had killed another native and fled across the Sahara of wind-blown snow to a hiding place in the wilderness. Thorne tracked him to his cabin and arrested him.

But the arrest did not satisfy Thorne. He required the corpse. The murdered man had been buried three weeks and deep snow had drifted over the grave. But Thorne located the spot and unearthed the body. Binding the coffin on his maul and headed south for the nearest justice's court at Fort Smith, 400 miles away, on the Slave river.

For four days they were storm-bound, and huddled for shelter behind the coffin. After two weeks' battle with storm and cold, weak and exhausted, they staggered into Fort Smith.

Thorne's man bore the rude casket into the court room where, during the preliminary hearing, it occupied a conspicuous position on the floor. The Indian is now in jail at Edmonton awaiting trial.

MOTHER HASN'T SEEN HER BABY TWO MONTHS OLD

Minneapolis, Minn., April 9.—Mrs. Jacob Miller of Minneapolis, who gave birth to a baby boy almost two months ago at a local hospital while afflicted with lethargic encephalitis—"sleeping sickness"—has yet to see her baby for the first time.

Confined to the hospital for seven weeks with the malady, Mrs. Miller became a mother during her sleeping spell and the child was born seven months before she knew a thing about it, as she declares.

The infant, an incubator baby, is being kept at the hospital where special care is given him.

"It's going to be awful funny having a baby I've never seen, delivered to me by auto all dressed and everything, with no more trouble than taking a package from a delivery wagon," Mrs. Miller declared.

Teachers' Pay Light—Fire Tribute Heavy

Startling Statistics Show Need of Teaching Fire Prevention in Schools of Nation

If the loss of property by fire in the United States in the last five years could have been saved and added to salaries for school teachers, they would all have had approximately 10 per cent higher pay annually, according to statistics which have just been compiled by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and issued in New York by the National Association of Credit Men.

This startling showing has just been made by the latter organization in connection with its nation-wide campaign for fire prevention education in the public schools. Bills providing for such education have been introduced in many of the State legislatures and such legislation is expected to be enacted by a majority of the States this year.

According to the association's figures, compiled from U. S. Government reports and National Board statistics, the total amount paid in salaries to teachers in 1918, the last year for which figures are available, was $421,884,264, compared with a loss of $1,416,975,000 by fire for the five years ending with 1918. Thus the fire loss in those five years was about three and a third times the amount of teachers' salaries for the single year.

In every State in the Union the fire loss for the period was greater than the annual teachers' payroll, the only exception being in the District of Columbia, where Uncle Sam tries to run a model city. There only the situation was reversed.

The statistics for each of the States are shown in the accompanying table. In addition to the property waste by fire, 75,000 human lives were sacrificed in the same time, according to a statement just received by the National Association of Credit Men from Governor Harry L. Davis, of Ohio.

"I believe that one of the most effective methods of coping with this great peril is through the education of our children," added the Governor.

GIVE CONTRACT FOR SURFACING OF KIDDER ROAD

Bad Piece of Red Trail Highway to Be Fixed—Work in McLean County

Commissioners of Kidder county have let a contract for work on one of the worst stretches on the Red trail between Fargo and Bismarck, according to information received by the state highway commission. The length of the proposed improvement is 3.7 miles, begins at the Stutsman county line and continues west. The road is sandy.

Several bidders were present. When bids were taken last year for the improvement the lowest bid was about $26,000. The lowest bid received this year is approximately $18,000.

Commissioners of McLean county have let a contract for a 10-mile stretch of road west of Garrison, which includes a heavy fill. The road will be graded. Among the bidders were contractors from South Dakota.

FARM LABOR IS HELD "EASIER"

Washington, April 9.—The farm labor situation in the United States is "decidedly easier" than it has been for three years, it was announced today at the department of agriculture.

OUSTED BASEBALL PLAYERS TO FORM TEAM OF OWN, BACKED BY BROKERS

Chicago, April 9.—Three ousted members of the White Sox club who were released because of indictments in connection with the 1919 world series scandal are organizing a team of their own with the object of playing clubs not in the major league, according to George K. Miller, an investment broker, who is associated with other brokers in backing the scheme.

The three players are Joe Jackson, former outfielder; Charles "Swede" Rishberg, former shortstop; and Claude Williams, former White Sox pitcher. It is stated that two other former members of the Sox club, Fred McMullin, third baseman, and Oscar "Happy" Felsch, outfielder, will also be included in the line-up.

Another player, Joe Gedeon, formerly with the Washington and St. Louis Americans and three other former big league players, are also expected to join.

INDIANS CLAIM OWNERSHIP OF RICH OIL LAND

Cherokee Nation Also Includes Two Oklahoma City Sites as Their Property

Washington, April 9.—Claim to 13-000,000 acres of land in Texas and Oklahoma, including the cities of Tulsa and Oklahoma City and practically the entire Burnburnett oil fields was filed in the supreme court today in behalf of the Cherokee Indian nation, supported by a government patent issued by President Van Buren and certified as authentic by the interior department.

The claim was in the form of a petition for petition to intervene in the Red River oil river land case, an original suit between Texas and Oklahoma, involving jurisdiction over the valuable oil fields situated along the common boundary.

The motion was filed by John M. Taylor, a grand nephew of Gen. Zachary Taylor, as attorney for the Cherokee nation.

The Mississippi river, with the tributaries, affords navigable mileage of 12,912 miles.

The United States received $40,000,000 in foreign gold during March.

With the exception of France, the railways of continental Europe are for the most part state-owned.

BRITISH FACE LABOR REGIME

Lloyd George's Advisers Urge Premier to Force Election in Hope New Order Would Fall Quickly

By Milton Bromberg.
London, April 9.—Many of Lloyd George's closest friends are urging him to precipitate an immediate, final showdown with labor.

Some of the most conservative of the British premier's advisers are hoping for his defeat—and a labor government!

That is at the bottom of the political industrial upheaval caused by the British miners' strike against return of the mines to private owners and the action of the railway and transport workers in supporting the miners.

In spite of the demand by Arthur Henderson for a general election and the defeat of Lloyd George, it is no secret that many other British labor leaders don't want a labor government—yet!

Running the British government just now is a ticklish, unpopular job. That is also the very reason why some of the bitterest opponents of labor are hoping labor will be thrown into the harness at once!

Those who take this view look for a labor government sooner or later.

"Let's have it now," they say, believing that labor would find today's problems too much for it; that the government would be short-lived; and that labor's political hopes would thus be killed for a long time.

Britain is confronted today with the most troublesome problems she has ever faced in peace time. In addition to the present industrial upheaval there are:

- 1—Burdenous taxation to pay war debts.
  - 2—Tremendous unemployment and huge unemployment doles.
  - 3—Renewal of the Japanese alliance.
  - 4—The war in Ireland.
  - 5—Dispute with America over Mesopotamian oil.
  - 6—Treatment of Germany.
  - 7—Future of navy and air force.
  - 8—Future of railways which are removed from government control in August and in bitter dispute with the government about financial payments.
- Since the resignation of Bonar Law, Unionist leader, Lloyd George's coalition government has had a hard row. The Liberals are badly split, many opposing the premier. The Unionists, who under Law gave Lloyd George

PREDICTS WRITER WILL RISE TO LEAD RUSSIANS

Henriette Safonoff

By Newspaper Enterprise.
NEW YORK, April 9.—Henriette Safonoff, a singer and cousin of the symphony conductor, W. Safonoff, has come to this country for the first time for a concert tour.

She says that the Bolshevik government is smothering the art for which Russia once was known and that artists and scientists now are starving.

"Dignity and peace and honor have gone out of Russia," she says. "There remains only a disheveled, mournful people who have insufficient food and who have lost the power to think."

It is worse than the French revolution because when it occurred human nature had never reached a greater development and the plunge back into the depths therefore was all the greater.

"Some day, however, when the people are not too frightened to talk, a great writer will rise up and tell the whole terrible truth. And out of our miseries of the past will rise a new and a better and stronger government."

BUSINESS MEN BEHIND EFFORT TO BOOST LAND

Twenty years ago when he came to the country with less than $50.

Talking of successful farming, Judge Nueces said that some time ago he was sitting under the Washington and in looking over the jury panel, he found twelve farmers there. All had come to McLean county with nothing, he said. Everyone in the jury box was worth more than $25,000 and one worth $100,000, he said.

Mr. Wilson, of the Northern Great Plains Experimental Station at Mandan, talked of the experiments made in the station. He gave many statistics of how the station is determining the best kinds of wheat to raise, and of experiments with livestock, trees and vegetables.

For County Agent.
The first speaker of the evening was Mr. Wolf, of the Agricultural College, until recently a resident of Wahpeton and president of the Wahpeton Commercial club. He spoke in behalf of the employment of a county agent in Burleigh county.

Mr. Wolf said that since he started out recently to place county agents, seven counties which have never had agents have hired them. In Burleigh county, he said, there is no agent, and the county commissioners do not wish to hire one now because of the expense. Mr. Wolf declared that the county would lose more than it would save in not hiring an agent.

He read the list of U. S. seed loans given recently, showing Burleigh county low in the list. The counties which have county agents have got the most loans, he said.

Mr. Wolf predicted that sweet clover would revolutionize farming in the western part of the state. He also spoke of a new dark wheat evolved at the agricultural college, which is proving superior to any other wheat. The college will have considerable seed to distribute next year, he said. The counties which have agents will get the most seed, he said.

"MAN-WOMAN-MARRIAGE," VAST MOTION PICTURE IS ANNOUNCED

Allen Holubar Present Dramatic Theme of Mother-Right and Woman's Strife Through All Ages

It was announced today that Associated First National Pictures, Inc., would present the drama eternal "Man-Woman-Marriage" at the Eltinge theater on Monday for a limited engagement. This super-production is said to mark the last word in richness of presentation and investiture. That it will prove the screen sensation of 1921 is predicted by the leading motion picture critics.

Some idea of the magnitude of the task of making this drama can be formed from the authoritative statement that over four hundred thousand feet of film went into its construction. Batteries of cameras were directed on some of the massive scenes, yet the completed film is in only nine reels. In other words, the film was boiled down to less than two per cent of the total length "shot." This means that scene after scene of startling beauty and dramatic piquancy flashes on the screen in tense sequence. The action, or tempo, as the picture producers call it, is breath-taking in its effect.

Dorothy Phillips, one of the new great emotional stars of the screen is starred in "Man-Woman-Marriage." It was produced by Allen Holubar, is presented by Albert A. Kaufman and released by Associated First National Pictures, Inc.

Sub-titled "The Love Woman" this intimate exposition of social relations of man and woman promises to set tongues wagging over never settled questions.

Holubar brings to his dramatic argument the force of historic truth. He renders biology popular and finds romance in the Neolithic Age. As a personified beauty, woman dances through the entire plot, passing gracefully from age to age and ever returning to the present to continue the plot's supreme purpose of entertainment.

An excited world is revealed in the third period of the story; society as it has developed (or descended) in social circles is pitilessly stripped to our view. Its pretensions and its masquerade are shown to be just what they are. Truth has never gone further than Holubar has taken it in this relentless disclosure of the passions and rotties of a world into which the steps of the woman are directed by an ambitious, proud and faithless husband. The slavery of woman to man is shouted again with all the energy of a passionate soul, and that slavery is shown to be as complete and as humiliating as ever the lure of an Oriental harem interposed between woman and her rightful development.

Holubar has his own ideas as to how the strife between the male and the female of the species ought to be corrected, and he does not hesitate to state it in terms of dramatic situations; but acceptance of the theories may be granted or withheld by the audience without interfering in the least with the thrill and vigor of the real vital drama of the play.

How to Meet the Shortage of Dwellings in America

When the call came to feed starving millions across the seas, American generosity, efficiency, and foresight were not wanting. Now comes a call to provide shelter for a great nation without homes enough for its growing population—and that nation is the United States. In the largest city of the country, 100,000 families are doubling up with one or more other families; there are places in the city where twelve persons live in three rooms; where four persons sleep in a kitchen every night; and hundreds of rooms in which four or five persons sleep. There is tuberculosis and there have been isolated cases of typhus. These conditions exist and this description appears in a report of a committee of the United States Senate which calls for governmental action to help build homes for our people.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, April 9th, the leading article is devoted to the housing shortage and the steps that are being taken by Federal and State Governments, Builders' Associations, and other agencies toward alleviating the condition.

Among the other striking news-articles in this number of THE DIGEST are:

D. A. R. REWARD PRIZE ESSAYS

Minishoshe Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution have decided to offer rewards for the best essays on the patriotic subject "Lexington Day, Patriots in 1776 and in 1921." The essays are to be written by pupils in the junior-high school only—7th and 8th grades. They are to contain 300 words, and must be in the hands of the judges by April 15th.

The committee in charge will read all essays presented and select ten of the best productions. From these ten the appointed judges will select first, second and third. For the first class essay will be offered a silver medal with the pupil's name engraved thereon and a gold piece worth two dollars and a half. The writer of the essay taking second and third place will have a honorable mention.

This is the first announcement made of the award, and the children will be busy from now until the 15th, writing on Lexington day in their very best style. The D. A. R. celebrates Lexington day in some special way each year. Last year they had a Lexington dinner. This year they have decided to honor the day by having the children write on the national event.

CLUB MUSICIANS HEARD THURSDAY

Several of the leading musicians of the Thursday Musical club were heard in an effective program on Thursday afternoon at the Community room of the city library, when guests were bidden for the social hour. The program, arranged by the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Arthur Bauer, with Mr. Donald McDonald in violin obligato, sang "Spring Evening" by Brown, and "The Yellow" by Speaks. Mrs. Genevieve Menard, who rendered two piano numbers: "Huguenot's 'Brandy' and 'Al Anpice' by Schenck. The musical numbers were pleasingly varied by a humorous reading by Miss Bergholm Caspary entitled "Engaging a Partner," followed by Ruthmannoff's "Polichinelle" on piano, played by Mrs. Bauer. Mrs. John Graham sang the "Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes," a very dainty number, and Mesdames Bauer and Higgins in duet, played Schubert's "Mittelfalt" and "Polonaise" by Viorak. Mrs. Elsie Bauer sang a pretty group of songs, "The Little White Lily" and Lehman's "Fairies Out of the Garden."

The Thursday Musical club has had a remarkable year and have been generous in sharing their musical talent with the residents of the city. Their closing program ranked well as a musical contribution.

FIRST SOCIAL EFFORT

The Business and Professional Women have reserved Patterson hall for the evening of April 25th for a benefit dancing party. Members of the club will deliver the invitations in person and an effort will be made to include all who are interested in seeing the club go forward. The benefit will be primarily for the purpose of sending a delegate to the National conference of Business and Professional Women to be held in Michigan this summer. The club is anxious to have Bismarck represented in this group of the leading women in active pursuits all over the union.

The committee, with Miss Daisy Welch, a graduate nurse as chairman, are busy appointing hostesses, patrons, business managers, refreshment committee, etc., and hope to make this one of the most enjoyable of Bismarck's larger social events of the closing season.

SCOUTS AND NURSES PLEASED

Doctor E. F. Quinn's travelogue last evening at the First Baptist church drew a large and very appreciative audience. The center of the auditorium was filled with scouts and nurses, and many citizens took advantage of the opportunity offered, filling other sections of the church auditorium, and enjoying to the full the descriptive illustrated travelogue, to France and back to New York City. The doctor's mastery of dates and details was remarkable and his vivid descriptions of scenes and activities by the Americans in France was above the ordinary. Bruce Wallace, on behalf of the scouts and nurses, introduced Doctor Quinn, and Dr. E. F. Jordan, at the close, heartily thanked the doctor for his valuable and interesting illustrated lecture.

CARNIVAL DANCE

Members of the convention committee of the Odd Fellows lodge, in a meeting held at noon today, decided to give a carnival dance at Patterson's hall a week from tonight. The two Odd Fellows lodges in the city and the Rebekahs will sponsor the affair, which the committee expects to make one of the biggest of the year. A special committee composed of Miss Bernice Ladders, G. N. Keniston and L. H. Langley will be in charge of the dance. Invitations will be issued.

EPISCOPAL GUILD DANCE

The dancing party given one group of the Episcopal Guild is reported as a very pretty and successful affair. Mrs. Atkinson as chairman, had with her managing the affair, Mesdames Dunham, Lough, Rawlings, Whitney, Bankston, Andrus and Shepperd. Patterson Hall where the party was held, had as decoration the favorite colors scheme of black and white and the punch bowl and serving table were exceedingly effective. A happy assembly of guests enjoyed the informal dance program from nine to one. The ladies are pleased with the success of their affair.

YEOMAN GRAND BALL

Great preparations are being made by the Yeoman lodge for the grand ball which will be given at Patterson hall on the evening of April 14, as the concluding event of the two day session of the state conclave. It is hoped that there will be 500 couples at the ball, which will be one of the most elaborate of the season.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

COOPERATION THE SOLUTION

Farmers of North Dakota have a real marketing problem and it should be the desire of every earnest and loyal citizen of the state no matter in what work or business he is engaged, to do everything in his power to help solve that problem in a satisfactory manner. It is only with a satisfied and intelligent body of progressive farmers that the state can develop and realize its possibilities.

As far as the Tribune can discern two plans for solution of the marketing problem have been presented.

One is the Townley plan or the so-called "farmers' program. It calls for state-owned and operated grain elevators, flour mills, banks and packing plants.

It has been tried in part and is no longer an experiment. The most earnest advocates of the "program" admit its failure to date, even though they still point with enthusiasm to their hopes for the future.

That program has failed because of the basic unsoundness of its structure. By the very nature of things it could not have succeeded.

There is another program and one which the Tribune from the moment it was first advanced has subscribed enthusiastically to and that is the marketing by the farmers of their products on the co-operative plan which has proved successful in California and sentiment for which has developed so rapidly in the last six months.

Here is a plan that has been tried and has stood the test. Sapiro does not have to apologize for it, neither does he have to pass the buck and admit that his protege is a weakling which sank trembling to the ground when the first cross word was spoken.

This marketing plan has the support of several non-political farmer organizations, the most prominent of which is the Farm Bureau Federation, which now has a membership of more than 20,000 in the state.

Henry C. Wallace, the new secretary of agriculture, has endorsed it. It might almost be said that it is meeting universal approval from all those who realize that something must be done to put farming and especially grain raising on a better economic footing, and endorsements have come from those also who realize that increased production alone without improved marketing facilities offers little to farmers.

Minnesota with the earnest approval and support of Gov. Preus has enacted into law important legislation to assist in the development of this co-operative movement.

It is not the Tribune's purpose to destroy any farmers' program that is economically sound but it does not approve of something which in its very nature cannot bring relief.

The Tribune does not want to be captious or impugn the motives of others. It believes as it does and it intends to stand on that belief. We desire no more compromise with socialism.

The North Dakota farmer must seek better economic conditions through co-operative effort and it is the duty of the state to do as Minnesota has, enact laws which will aid and assist in the development of this movement. The solution will never be found in state paternalism under political manipulation, league or anti-league.

STRICTLY NONPARTISAN

The League of Women Voters is nonpartisan in the broad sense of the term.

Its members are of all creeds, colors and conditions.

It has no political ax to grind. It urges its members to affiliate themselves with political parties. It asks only that they understand to what principles they subscribe when joining a party.

Not all citizens have the same religious belief; yet no one will deny that all truly religious societies are working for the good of mankind.

So the League of Women Voters—holding its convention in Cleveland April 11-16—believes there is good in all parties. Each individual must choose which combination of principles is most in accord with her personal beliefs.

To the great majority of women, so recently come into full citizenship and the right to vote, all these national questions are new. Hitherto their minds have been occupied with other, more personal matters.

They need, therefore, instruction on party fundamentals as well as on current issues.

Previous to the last election the first national one under woman suffrage—most men believed, they could take the women voters into their parties with little or no instruction and that the women would vote as they (the men) advised.

But this quickly proved to be an error of judgment. The women proved themselves in the main to be of the "Show me!" variety.

With women issues are bigger and of greater interest than parties. The League of Women Voters encourages this independence of thought.

In this lies hope for the betterment of parties. Because women, entering parties, will take with them a cleaner, saner, truer interpretation of the questions they will stand for in the parties.

"GENTLEMEN, BE SEATED"

"I see by the paper that Al G. Field is dead," said the fat drummer in the Pullman smoker. "He was only a minstrel man, but he was the great idol of my boyhood. Millions, now nearing middle age, will look back into the past with me and recall when Al G. Field loomed as big in Boyville as Babe Ruth does today.

"By some magical process that I never could fathom, Al's blackface show seemed to open the Opera House season in every town in the country. We boys had the world in our palm if we could scrape together a quarter and get in line hours in advance so we'd have front seats in the gallery.

"For weeks after Al's show we boys played at minstrels in the barn and used up all the corks in the house to blacken our faces. All of us had great ambitions, I recall that I was uncertain whether to be president of the United States or engineer of the Number Eight Express that roared through our town at night. Other fellows had their caps set on other goals. But at some time or other every boy passed up his ambitions and decided that the finest thing in the world would be to travel as an end man with Al G. Field. What greater success could any man want in a lifetime than to hold the position in boys' hearts that Al G. Field held two and three decades ago?"

HOPE FOR THE WORLD

When a man who has made much money out of the display of the female form come out and says: "I want to see more clothes on women; I want them to dress more modestly; I want to see longer skirts and more of them," there's surely hope for the world. That's Lee Shubert, theatrical producer.

When Dr. Bowlby, a leader in the Sunday-reform movement, declares "I believe in kissing. It is wonderfully delightful as an exercise, and I'm not against it either on week days or on Sundays," he touches the human side of things. And it is hard to believe that he favors the removal of the sun from Sunday, the hushing of gladness song of the canary on that day, or the enjoining of the flight of the bluebirds and swallows on a day set apart for rest.

It is fair to presume that there is much good on each side of almost every question. If Shubert favors a return to sanity in dressing it is not fair to question his motives by even expressing opinion that with more clothes on the women outside, greater crowds will pack his theatre to see the girls in the ordinary garb of musical comedy.

If dear old Dr. Bowlby and Mr. Shubert keep on moving in their present direction, at no late date the millennium may arrive.

MEMBER THAT DOG OF YOURS?

You are asked by the American Humane Association to set aside April 11-17 as "Humane Week" for greater kindness to animals. It's a movement that nobody can be mean enough to oppose.

Go back into your childhood and you recall a certain pet dog that was as loyal a friend as you ever had. What child did not worship the intelligent old horse in grandpa's barn? Who did not have difficulty keeping back the tears when mother read aloud the stories of "Beautiful Joe" and "Black Beauty?"

Much of the joy of youth is inseparably bound up with dumb animals. Children instinctively are affectionate and kind to dumb brutes. That is our normal attitude toward them. As we grow older, however, we grow thoughtless and many are unnecessarily cruel to dogs and cats and the beasts of the field and the fowl of the air.

We owe a mighty debt to dumb animals. Millions of mothers and children have been protected by faithful watch dogs.

We call this the age of steam and electricity, yet much of our civilization rests on domesticated animals—almost as much so as when they were helping our ancestors emerge from barbarism by sharing the work. We still have 20,000,000 horses toiling for us in America, and a greater number of cows furnishing us with meat, milk and butter.

We couldn't get along without them. Giving them a square deal is a matter of common decency—of granting them what they deserve.

It is a fine thing that we are going to observe "Humane Week." Let's keep it going after April 17—let's recognize the importance of domesticated animals in American life and, realizing that they are helpless before the merciless hand, spare them all unnecessary pain.

The hen that doesn't cackle has no egg to advertise.

Clean-up week may well be followed by 51 Klean weeks.

April showers bring May flowers—and next winter's flour.

And some girls, as you may have noticed, have the cheek to take Paint Up Week literally.

That program has failed because of the basic unsoundness of its structure. By the very nature of things it could not have succeeded.

There is another program and one which the Tribune from the moment it was first advanced has subscribed enthusiastically to and that is the marketing by the farmers of their products on the co-operative plan which has proved successful in California and sentiment for which has developed so rapidly in the last six months.

Here is a plan that has been tried and has stood the test. Sapiro does not have to apologize for it, neither does he have to pass the buck and admit that his protege is a weakling which sank trembling to the ground when the first cross word was spoken.

This marketing plan has the support of several non-political farmer organizations, the most prominent of which is the Farm Bureau Federation, which now has a membership of more than 20,000 in the state.

Henry C. Wallace, the new secretary of agriculture, has endorsed it. It might almost be said that it is meeting universal approval from all those who realize that something must be done to put farming and especially grain raising on a better economic footing, and endorsements have come from those also who realize that increased production alone without improved marketing facilities offers little to farmers.

Minnesota with the earnest approval and support of Gov. Preus has enacted into law important legislation to assist in the development of this co-operative movement.

It is not the Tribune's purpose to destroy any farmers' program that is economically sound but it does not approve of something which in its very nature cannot bring relief.

The Tribune does not want to be captious or impugn the motives of others. It believes as it does and it intends to stand on that belief. We desire no more compromise with socialism.

The North Dakota farmer must seek better economic conditions through co-operative effort and it is the duty of the state to do as Minnesota has, enact laws which will aid and assist in the development of this movement. The solution will never be found in state paternalism under political manipulation, league or anti-league.

STRICTLY NONPARTISAN

The League of Women Voters is nonpartisan in the broad sense of the term.

Its members are of all creeds, colors and conditions.

It has no political ax to grind. It urges its members to affiliate themselves with political parties. It asks only that they understand to what principles they subscribe when joining a party.

Not all citizens have the same religious belief; yet no one will deny that all truly religious societies are working for the good of mankind.

So the League of Women Voters—holding its convention in Cleveland April 11-16—believes there is good in all parties. Each individual must choose which combination of principles is most in accord with her personal beliefs.

To the great majority of women, so recently come into full citizenship and the right to vote, all these national questions are new. Hitherto their minds have been occupied with other, more personal matters.

They need, therefore, instruction on party fundamentals as well as on current issues.

COOPERATION THE SOLUTION

Farmers of North Dakota have a real marketing problem and it should be the desire of every earnest and loyal citizen of the state no matter in what work or business he is engaged, to do everything in his power to help solve that problem in a satisfactory manner. It is only with a satisfied and intelligent body of progressive farmers that the state can develop and realize its possibilities.

As far as the Tribune can discern two plans for solution of the marketing problem have been presented.

One is the Townley plan or the so-called "farmers' program. It calls for state-owned and operated grain elevators, flour mills, banks and packing plants.

It has been tried in part and is no longer an experiment. The most earnest advocates of the "program" admit its failure to date, even though they still point with enthusiasm to their hopes for the future.

That program has failed because of the basic unsoundness of its structure. By the very nature of things it could not have succeeded.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"The Villain," said Filppety-Flap.

Mr. Seal went on to tell Mrs. Seal about the circus he had been in before he married her.

"There's another creature in it called a clown," said Mr. Seal.

"Anything like a man?" asked Mrs. Seal.

"Something. Only he's covered with spots, and he doesn't always stand up on his hind flippers. Sometimes he walks around on his front ones, and usually he has a pig to ride, or a donkey or a Billy goat."

"What's a pig?" asked Mrs. Seal.

"A horrible creature, with a tail like the letter Q," answered her husband patiently.

"Does he eat fish?"

"He eats anything."

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a judgment and decree in foreclosure, rendered and given by the district court of the First Judicial District, in and for the county of Cass and state of North Dakota, and entered and docketed in the office of the clerk of said court in and for the said county on the 15th day of March, 1921, in an action wherein Seth G. Wright was plaintiff and Ole Anderson and Annie Anderson were defendants, in favor of the said plaintiff and against said defendants, for the sum of one hundred forty and 25/100 ($140.25) dollars, which judgment and decree among other things directed the sale by me of the real estate hereinafter described to satisfy the amount of said judgment, with interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of such sale, or so much thereof as the proceeds of such sale applicable thereto will satisfy. And by virtue of a writ to me issued out of the office of the clerk of said court in and for said county of Cass and under the seal of said court, directing me to sell said real property pursuant to said judgment and decree, I, Rollin Welch, sheriff of Burleigh county, and person appointed by said court to make said sale will sell the hereinafter described real estate at a public auction, at the front door of the court house in the city of Bismarck in the county of Burleigh and state of North Dakota, on the 16th day of May, A. D. 1921, at 2 o'clock P. M. of that day, to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs thereon, and the costs and expenses of such sale, or so much thereof as the proceeds of such sale applicable thereto will satisfy. The premises to be sold as aforesaid pursuant to said judgment and decree, and to said writ and to this notice are described in said judgment, decree and writ, as follows, to-wit:

The north half of the northwest quarter of Section ten (10), in Township one hundred forty-four (144), North of Range seventy-eight (78),

West of the Fifth Principal Meridian, containing eighty acres more or less according to the U. S. government survey thereof, situated in the county of Burleigh and state of North Dakota.

Dated at Baldwin, North Dakota, this 6th day of April, 1921.

George Nelson, Sr. Mortgagee

H. G. Higgins, Attorney for Mortgagee, Baldwin, North Dakota. (April 9)

The Price That is Set.

The gods have set a price upon every real and noble pleasure. If you would gain the favor of the deity you must be at the pains of worshipping Him; if you would be beloved by your friends you must study to oblige them; if you would be honored by any city you must be of service to it; and if you would be admired by all Greece, on account of your probity and valor, you must exert yourself to do her some eminent service. If you would render your fields fruitful and fill your arms with grain, you must labor to cultivate the soil accordingly. Would you grow rich by your hands, a proper care must be taken of them; would you extend your dominions by arms and be rendered capable of settling at liberty your captive friends and bringing your enemies to subjection, you must not only learn of those that are experienced in the art of war, but exercise yourself also in the practice of military affairs; and if you would excel in the strength of your body you must keep your body in due subjection to your mind and exercise it with labor and pains.—From the "Memorabilia of Socrates."

MARKETS

WHEAT RALLIES

CHICAGO, April 9—Depressing economic news from England and scattered selling at the start was responsible for a bullish wheat market after the start today. Opening quotations which varied from 1-1/2 cent lower to 1-2 cent higher were followed by slight gains and then somewhat of a reaction. The market rallied sharply at the finish because of buying induced by a forecast of freezing temperatures over the belt and closed firm with prices unchanged to 1/4 to 1 cent higher.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, April 9—Cattle receipts, 500. For week beef steers mostly 75 cents to $1 lower.

Hog receipts, 4,000. Strong, active, 15 cents higher.

Sheep 8,000. Mostly packer direct. For week, steady to 25 cents higher. Hog receipts, 375. Steady to weak. Range $7.00 to $9.10.

Butk, $3.00 to $9.00.

Pigs, weak.

Sheep, 230. Direct to packers.

4 or 5 wk, practically steady.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

MINNEAPOLIS, April 9—Wheat receipts 164 cars compared with 175 cars a year ago.

Harold Svendsgaard

This is an excellent likeness of Harold Svendsgaard, 17-year-old Bismarck boy, who disappeared Feb. 1. The picture will be sent to many cities throughout the Northwest in an effort to locate him, accompanied by an accurate description. Boy scouts of Bowden, N. D., with whom Harold was associated when the family lived at Bowden, sent $45 to Harold's family, asking that it be placed in the fund to pay expenses of the search.

Not Enough Hudson

Super-Six Still Holds Exclusive Position

Hudson shortage is a fact. Buyers know it. Instead of immediate deliveries an increasing number find they must wait.
Total stocks of Hudsons, everywhere in the country, average less than two cars per dealer.
Our own spring demand must be met from such small stocks as we had the foresight to get during the slack season past.

NOTE WHAT YOU SAVE

Now we see better than ever before what hold Hudson quality has among motor car users.
The present market is selective. Hence the emphasis of Hudson value. Its cost advantage gives $1000 or more, saving against any car to which you compare Hudson quality, reliability and performance.
Perhaps you hold Hudson the greatest of all cars. Surely, in many respects, you acknowledge this is so.
For instance the Super-Six motor. It is exclusive to Hudson. For five years it has been the master type. No other has been developed to match its efficiency and endurance. It practically annuls vibration. The smoothness which results is appreciated not only in riding ease. It means absence of strain and friction. Repair freedom and a long life car results. It accounts for Hudson's five years of sales leadership.
And if you plan to buy soon, bear in mind that deliveries are already difficult and stocks must be even more limited as the season progresses.

INDIA WHEAT ACREAGE WILL BE REDUCED

Washington, April 9.—A reduction of between five million and six million acres planted to wheat in India as compared with last year was announced today by the department of agriculture in predicting reduced production there. Last year's crop was 377,000,000 bushels.

Because Russia must be discounted it was said the production in so important a wheat country as India has an important bearing on the world supply.

You Will Be Delighted With a Chandler Coupe

With spring weather upon us and all out-doors calling to us, many want a car that provides all the comfort and ease of riding and protection from the passing shower or sharp breeze. There is no more ideal car for every season than the Chandler coupe. On the hottest summer day it may be entirely open, and on the coldest winter day as snug and cozy as can be.

Sells at a Price Unequaled

Mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis, it has all the finest characteristics of the highest priced cars, yet sells at a price unequaled. The body is splendidly built, roomy in its capacity, beautifully upholstered in silk velour, and has a lustrous finish. The windows are automatically adjusted. The interior fittings are in dull silver finish.
The heavily padded cushions are of such dimensions and so arranged as to add immeasurably to your comfort in the car. You will be delighted with it.
